FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Delaware gross receipts coupons now available online

Statewide – April 11, 2006 – Delaware Division of Revenue Director Patrick Carter today announced that Delaware gross receipts coupons are now available online.

Businesses maintaining a Delaware business license will still receive their Delaware gross receipts coupon booklets in the mail each year; however, replacement coupons are now accessible online 24-hours a day from the comfort of your office or home by visiting www.state.de.us/revenue.

Though businesses will not be able to file Delaware gross receipts taxes on the Internet until the end of 2006, having gross receipts coupons available online is “a great convenience to both businesses and the State,” says Carter.

“Online returns save time and money spent ordering forms, as well as waiting for them to arrive via fax or mail,” he says. “Now businesses can instead print them right from their computer with no waiting.”

The release of Delaware’s new online gross receipts coupons follows the state’s gross receipts tax rate reduction, which took effect FY2006. Businesses using their own software to generate returns are reminded to use the newly reduced tax rate and increased exclusion.

“Some businesses are using last year’s coupons and correcting the rate changes on the coupons themselves, and they are strongly urged to access Delaware’s online coupons and use them instead,” says Carter.

“Using the online gross receipts coupons will ensure that businesses are paying this year’s new lowered tax rate.”

The online gross receipts coupons also contain helpful interactive features, such as an automatically populated due date and instant math calculations. Additionally, a scanline on the return will help expedite Revenue processing.

To complete an online gross receipts coupon taxpayers will need to know the business code they are classified, as well as their 13-digit account number. This information can be found on the perforated receipt, or lower portion of their Delaware business license.
